Re: Communist Influence
In Racial Matters
Internal Security - C

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on August 25, 1965, that Bernard Lee (Personal Assistant to Martin Luther King) was in contact with Stanley Levison on that date. Lee stated that he was contacting Levison in behalf of King, who desired <sup>that</sup> Levison review an article which he (King) was writing for "The New York Times" magazine (Sunday's edition). Lee said that King wanted to determine whether or not the article was perceptive enough and if not, wanted him to make the necessary changes. Levison agreed to the request and said that he would make whatever changes were necessary.

Later, on August 25, 1965, the same source: advised that Martin Luther King contacted Levison concerning the article which is to appear in the New York Times, and also in regard to other matters. After discussing the article, they concurred that the article would receive nationwide attention, prompting King to comment that the article should contain a message to the effect that one way to respond to "that" (Los Angeles riot) was to take a completely negative attitude, whereby the civil rights leaders and everyone else would be blamed for the trouble. King said he had been accused since he had urged people to break laws during the civil rights demonstrations. In an effort to explain his position more clearly, King said that he was trying to get across the fact that a crisis like "that" (Los Angeles riot) could be both a danger point as well as an opportunity. "This is the time", King said, "to seek the causes and face the fact that we haven't done enough to right wrongs". He said, "Now" is the time to make a new national commitment on the whole question of civil rights."

Levison, commenting on King's belief that a new national commitment should be made, said "such a statement could be expressed in the form King had used before, that non violence can make its effective contribution only when there is a creative and cooperative response on the other side from the power structure".

According to the source, one other important matter was considered before King and Levison ended their conference. King said he had a feeling that there was a need to re-evaluate "our whole programmatic thrust" in the next few months, particularly their work in the North. He said that . . . was necessary since there had been accusations that the Los Angeles riot had been caused because civil rights leaders had not carried their program to the isolated people.

It was agreed that in view of King's feeling that an urgent consultation with his advisors was needed, specifically Young, Bayard Rustin, Levison and Clarence Jones, that a meeting be held in Atlanta at the Hilton Inn on August 26, 1965, through the morning of August 28, 1965.

The conference ended with a promise by Levison that he would contact Rustin and Jones to see whether or not they could attend the meeting.

The source advised on the night of August 25, 1965, that Stanley Levison made arrangements to fly to Atlanta, Georgia on August 26, 1965, aboard Eastern Airlines Flight 101Y, which was scheduled to leave Kennedy International Airport at 9:30 a.m. and arrive in Atlanta at 10:38 a.m. The source said Levison would be met at the Atlanta airport by Andrew Young (Executive Director of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference).

On August 26, 1965, at 9:30 a.m., Special Agents of the New York Office observed Stanley Levison board Eastern Airlines Flight Number 101Y and depart Kennedy International Airport for Atlanta, Georgia.

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised in April, 1964, that Stanley Levison was a secret member of the Communist Party, United States of America (CPUSA) in July, 1963. In late 1963 and early 1964, he criticized the Communist Party (CP) for not being sufficiently militant in the civil rights struggle. Levison was described by certain CP leaders as being to the "left" of the CP in his position on civil rights. Levison's differences with the CP, however, are merely tactical and he continues his ideological adherence to Communism.

In "The Saturday Evening Post", issue of July 11-18, 1964, page 76, Bayard Rustin is the subject of a feature article captioned: "The Lone Wolf of Civil Rights". In it, Rustin is said to have come to New York in 1938, as an organizer for the Young Communist League (YCL), and as such, he had the job of recruiting students for the "Party". Furthermore, the article reports that during his first years in New York, Rustin gave most of his earnings to the "Party". He reportedly left the "Party" in 1941, the article states.

The YCL has been designated pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

The "Daily Worker", February 11, 1957, page 1 column 2, reported that Bayard Rustin, Executive Secretary, War Resisters League, was an observer at the 16th National Convention of the Communist Party, United States of America (CP, USA), held in New York City, on February 9-12, 1957.

The "Daily Worker" was an East Coast Communist publication until it ceased publication on January 13, 1958.

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on September 25, 1963, that during a meeting of the National Board, CP, USA, on that date, Benjamin J. Davis remarked that, "Rustin calls me constantly--openly." ~~SECRET~~

RACIAL MATTER

A source on September 1, 1965, advised that on the evening of August 31, 1965, leaders of the Communist Party, United States of America (CP, USA), and the CP of Illinois Youth Organizations, held a meeting with the leadership of the West Side W.E.B. Du Bois Club of Chicago, at the West Side Du Bois Club of Chicago Freedom Center, 2928 West Lake Street, Chicago, Illinois.

Among those present for this meeting were [redacted] West Side W.E.B. Du Bois Club of Chicago; [redacted] CP of Illinois [redacted]; and Mike Zagarell, National Youth Director for the CP, USA. The purpose of the meeting was to apprise the leadership of the West Side W.E.B. Du Bois Club of Chicago of a proposal whereby it was desired to place Mike Zagarell in contact with the leaders of Negro West Side youth gangs. It was stated that the purpose of such a contact will be so that Zagarell could gain knowledge of these gang leaders attitudes toward racial problems and the recent race riots which occurred in the Chicago area. It was stated that during this contact Zagarell would attempt to enlist the gang leaders support in having such violent demonstrations stopped and the energies of these gang members channelized into more constructive areas.

During this meeting the leadership of the West Side W.E.B. Du Bois Club of Chicago voiced an objection to the proposed contact between Zagarell and the youth gang leaders, because it was believed that such a contact might cause problems for the W.E.B. Du Bois Club of Chicago's West Side Freedom Center, and further this contact was objected to because it was believed that, were the gang leaders to learn who Mike Zagarell was, this could very possibly cause "Red baiting" problems in the West Side Freedom Center.

The meeting was told in response to this objection, that if the contact were established, the West Side gang leaders would be told that Mike Zagarell is the National Youth Director for the CP, USA, and that the West Side W.E.B. Du Bois Club of Chicago, and the W.E.B. Du Bois Clubs of Chicago in general, would not be mentioned or even involved.

Following a discussion of this problem it was decided by those present that [ ] of the West Side W.E.B. Du Bois Club of Chicago would not be utilized to make the arrangements for this contact, but instead it was decided to have Claude Lightfoot, CP of Illinois leader, contact [ ], a Negro woman who resides on the West Side of Chicago, and who recently ran for alderman of the [ ] Ward. It was stated that Lewis was aware of the identities of the West Side gang leaders, and that Lightfoot and Lewis have known each other for some years.

b7D

It was decided, therefore, that an effort would be made to have Claude Lightfoot contact [ ] the morning of September 1, 1965, for the purpose of arranging a meeting between Zagarell and the West Side gang leaders sometime during the following week. It was also decided that [ ] be made aware of Zagarell's position with the CP, USA.

A second source on September 1, 1965, advised that Claude Lightfoot is a member of the CP, USA National Negro Commission, and Chairman of the CP of Illinois.

Appended hereto are characterizations of the W.E.B. Du Bois Clubs of America and the W.E.B. Du Bois Club of Chicago.

Internal Security - C

On August 31, 1965, a confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that Stanley Levison conferred with [ ] on that date. The conference afforded Levison an opportunity to apprise Stein that he recently talked with Martin Luther King, (President of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) ), during which time King said the SCLC had decided to employ him [ ]. According to Levison, [ ] will receive $9,000 annually, plus expenses, and will be the highest paid employee on the staff of the SCLC.

The source said Levison told [ ] that his principal function will be raising funds for the SCLC, and that he will do this by contacting churches. In this regard, Levison said he desired to accompany [ ] down there (Atlanta, Georgia), to discuss a few things about the Negro churches he will contact in carrying out his duties; however, Levison cautioned that he might not be able to go since King had already delegated so many responsibilities to him that he did not know whether he would have the time.

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised in April, 1964, that Stanley Levison was a secret member of the Communist Party, United States of America (CPUSA), in July, 1963. In late 1963 and early 1964, he criticized the Communist Party (CP) for not being sufficiently militant in the civil rights struggle. Levison was described by certain CP leaders as being to the "left" of the CP in his position on civil rights. Levison's differences with the CP, however, are merely tactical and he continues his ideological adherence to Communism.

APPENDIX

FACING REALITY PUBLISHING COMPANY OR COMMITTEES

A source who has furnished reliable information in the past on August 1, 1958, stated that as a result of the split in the Johnson-Forest Group (JFG), which occurred in 1955, two factions emerged, the Johnson Faction and the Forest Faction. According to the source, the Johnson Faction was composed of the followers of C. L. R. JAMES, also known as JAMES JOHNSON, and the Forest Faction was composed of the followers of RAE DWYER, also known as FREDDIE FOREST. The co-founders of the JFG were C. L. R. JAMES, known as JOHNSON, who was deported from the United States as an undesirable alien in 1953, and RAE DWYER, known as FOREST.

The JFG has been designated pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

A second source who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on November 26, 1962, that subsequent to the split in the JFG, the Johnson Faction took the name Correspondence Group, which continued until February, 1962, when this group again split with the majority aligning themselves with JAMES behind the leadership of MARTIN GLABERMAN of Detroit, Michigan, and the minority group aligning themselves behind the leadership of JAMES BOGGS.

On February 18, 1965, this source advised that on February 8, 1965, he had learned that the Correspondence Group, whose national Chairman was JAMES BOGGS, had ceased operations completely and no longer maintains headquarters at 7737 Mack, Detroit.

This source reported on July 18, 1962, that the majority of individuals under leadership of MARTIN GLABERMAN at Detroit, Michigan, who formerly belonged to the Correspondence Group there had taken the name Facing Reality Publishing Company or Committee, while the three former members of the Group at New York had met informally in support of the Detroit group, which had issued neither directions nor instructions. The New York Group has no officers or headquarters.

On March 7, 1963, the same source advised that the Facing Reality Publishing Company or Committee seeks to create a Marxist society based on the dialectical concepts of Marxism-Leninism as interpreted by G. L. R. JAMES, establishing government by workers rather than government by a Marxist political party. The prime movement in securing the support of the people is considered to be a publication to be used by the workers in their daily fight against capitalism. This group rejects the vanguard party concept of Marxism and has established the theory that trade unions keep the workers under subjugation by preventing their channeling of their own efforts to take over the means of production and through this to in turn take over governmental processes. This group rejects all present forms of governments, except those new nationalist governments, as capitalist, or in the case of Russia, State Capitalist.

On May 4, 1965, the same source advised that the Facing Reality Publishing Committee continues to meet at 3513 Woodward Avenue, Detroit, Michigan.

Internal Security - C

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on September 2, 1965, that on that date Dora McDonald, Secretary to Martin Luther King, Jr., at the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), instructed Clarence Jones to get together with Stan (Levison) and prepare two speeches for King. She indicated that one of the speeches is to be given at a District 65 (of the Retail, Wholesale and Department Store Union, Congress of Industrial Organizations) function on September 17, 1965 and that the other would be for a later appearance by King in New York.

Mc Donald stated that the District 65 affair is a family type function because they want King, who is to be the main speaker, to bring his wife and children.

Jones advised that he would take care of the speech assignments but would like to go over a few things with King.

Another confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, later advised on September 2, 1965, that on that date Clarence Jones was in contact with Martin Luther King, Jr. According to the source, Jones and King discussed the formation of a tax-exempt corporation of the SCLC which should increase donations to the SCLC. King stated that the SCIC has received many letters inquiring if the SCIC is tax-exempt and stating that the senders would make a larger contribution if it was tax-exempt. King said he suggested a name such as SCIC Institute of Nonviolence but wants to discuss it with the Research Committee (consisting of King and his top advisers).

King was concerned that if the corporation is separate from the SCIC it will hinder their operation rather than help. Jones said he was concerned that unless it has a definite relationship to the organization, it may become a personal platform for Harry (Wachtel). He said it has to be closely aligned with the SCIC regardless of what form it takes.

Jones, with King's urging, promised to have a full discussion with Harry (Wachtel). Jones said he was concerned with the problem of having an independent operation in which he (Wachtel) could act without having any responsiveness to the organization and King agreed. King said that Harry wants to be the Executive Vice President and house the operation in his own office, which is agreeable to him, but that they cannot build something for Harry because he would center it around himself. He expressed the hope that Jones can convey this to Harry.

King asked whether Dora McDonald contacted Jones about the speeches. He confirmed that she did and said he would be getting together with Stan (Levison) on both of them. King felt this was good.

King remarked that he is getting ready to move into Chicago that he feels they will bring a creativity to the situation that will help. King said they still have problems in the South and cited Natchez, Mississippi. Jones said he was convinced more and more that non-violence was the only way for the broad mass of Negroes in this country, in spite of the intellectuals and radical revolutionaries in the North.

Re: ~~CONFIDENTIAL~~ Communist Influence

On the night of September 6, 1965, a confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised that Martin Luther King (President of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC)) was in conference with Stanley Levison on that date. Their contact, according to the source, was in regard to an article which is scheduled to appear in "The New York Times" magazine in the future. The article, which will be attributed to King, will deal with the civil rights movement in general and the Los Angeles riot in particular. Levison, the source advised, wanted King's comments regarding the draft of the article he had prepared at King's request. King said he thought it was good, but said he desired to change a couple of points, specifically: the statement at the end of the article which inferred that the only way to solve the problem (Negro) was to have a march of 100,000 people; the statement that none of the major cities have good mayors should read that, "only a few major cities have good mayors, Allen being one of them" (Mayor Allen of Atlanta, Georgia); and the statement that the riots cast light on the imperfections of the civil rights movement. King said the last enumerated statement was too strong and would expose him to the criticism of other civil rights leaders. They agreed to modify the statement by saying that the riots exposed the imperfections of the civil rights movement as well as those factions in the "social-economic" life of the community.

Re: Communist Influence in

Another matter considered by King and Levison was a report that the headquarters of the SCLC had been burglarized. Levison said he had not been able to verify the story, thereby prompting King to volunteer that during the SCLC Convention (in Birmingham, Alabama, August 9-13, 1965) the safe was burglarized. According to King, checks amounting to $6,000, which had been contributed to the SCLC, checks in the amount of $10,000, which were to pay their bills, and a $190,000 check representing funds of the SCLC which were being transferred to another SCLC account, were taken. Levison suggested to King that he "scotch" the rumor that one quarter of a million dollars was stolen because it could adversely affect donations.

~~SECRET~~

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised in April, 1964, that Stanley Levison was a secret member of the Communist Party, United States of America (CPUSA) in July, 1963. In late 1963 and early 1964, he criticized the Communist Party (CP) for not being sufficiently militant in the civil rights struggle. Levison was described by certain CP leaders as being to the "left" of the CP in his position on civil rights. Levison's differences with the CP, however, are merely tactical and he continues his ideological adherence to Communism.

Phil Bart informed Lena Kuhn that the youth movement in Cleveland is off to a good start and the biggest percent age of the participants are negro youth and it is not sure but the number is believed to be over 150 or more participants. This youth movement was to have taken place about July 10th <sup>11th</sup> or 12th. Phil Bart seemed real pleased with the results with the conversation between him and [redacted] [redacted] told of her trip to Charleston W. Va. to a meeting of the State N.A.A.C.P. to renew the charges against the state president [redacted] on the charges of a paternity charge. [redacted] stated it was a frame up and as a result of the meeting he [redacted] was not suspended for 1 year as head of the N.A.A.C.P. [redacted] stated that [redacted] had asked her to join the Charleston Branch of the N.A.A.C.P. At the present time John Talley has not met Phil Bart but Phil is anxious to meet [redacted] [redacted] stated she phoned her son [redacted] in California and talked to him and her two sisters for a long time and [redacted] lost his job and now is living in L.A. with some youths evidently they are going to stake him until he gets straightened out. It was said it was close to his activities, what was meant by this is not known. [redacted]

It is known that he is in touch with the workers office in that area and has some connection with the DuBois Club and also is a member of a committee on the youth festival to be held in Japan. [redacted] stated that she would rather stay in this area as she believes she is best suited to carry out her work in this area but if her and Emil her husband's financial troubles get too tough and he loses his job their only alternative is to go with Gilt in California. The married sister in Santa Ana cautioned her against just packing up and coming out, Her widowed sister Ann wants her to come out, [redacted] told Gene he was financially broke and would either come down or send her $5.00 by mail.

On August 27, 1965, NY T-1, who has furnished reliable information in the past, and who previously furnished data concerning an alleged Communist link between Harlem and Africa, principally through the country of Tanzania, was recontacted.

NY T-1 related that the Communist link in Harlem appears to be coming in through the various African countries. He explained that in December, 1964, close contact was made through Minister Babu of Tanzania with William Epton and also Che Guevara. According to the informant, these contacts and meetings were set up by [redacted], who was recently convicted in the United States of trying to bomb the Statue of Liberty, New York City.

NY T-1 advised that up until the December, 1964 meeting, William Epton was hard pressed for money and after these meetings, his money problems appeared to have eased off. Informant added that William Epton still maintains close contact with Tanzania.

Informant advised that the Revolutionary Action Movement (RAM), headed by Max Stanford, is known to handle printed matter from Cuba by Robert Williams. Further, that RAM leaders have close contact with William Epton, James Shabazzy, [redacted] in Harlem, New York City. It was the opinion of NY T-1 that RAM is supplying money to the Black Arts Theater and the "Liberator" magazine, both of which, until the RAM group came upon the scene, was having money problems. According to the informant, RAM's money may be coming into the United States from Cuba, by way of Canada. Informant stated that RAM handles the publication "Revolution" from Cuba via Canada.

On September 10, 1965, at 2:00 PM, Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) observed Martin Luther King, Harry Wachtel, Bayard Rustin, Andrew Young (Executive Director of the SCLC), and Bernard Lee (assistant to King), enter the elevator at the New York Hilton Hotel, 53rd Street and Sixth Avenue, New York City, New York.

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised on September 10, 1965, that Clarence Jones was in contact with Bernard Lee on that date. Jones wanted to know if King had seen [REDACTED] Lee answered affirmatively, adding that they met earlier that afternoon and that everything went off very well.

Re: Communist Influence in

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, furnished information on the night of September 12, 1965, disclosing that a conference took place on that night between Martin Luther King (President of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, SCLC) and his advisers, specifically: Stanley Levison, Harry Wachtel, Clarence Jones, Andrew Young (Executive Director of the SCLC), Cleveland Robinson (Secretary - Treasurer of Local 65, Retail, Wholesale and Department Store Workers, American Federation of Labor - Congress of Industrial Organizations, AFL-CIO), and an unknown male. King said he wanted the advice of these advisors in regard to his position on Vietnam, which he said was stated on September 10, 1965, following a conference with United Nations Ambassador Arthur Goldberg.

Since making his statement, he has been subjected to criticism, King said. He said he had in mind the criticism of Senator Thomas Dodd, Democrat of Connecticut. In that regard, King said he was convinced that President Johnson had persuaded Dodd to criticize him since it was his opinion that the Administration feels that he is going too far (in urging the seating of Red China and ending the bombings in Vietnam).

Re: Communist Influence in
Racial Matters
Internal Security - C

The "New York Herald Tribune," September 12, 1965, reported on page 25, that Senator Thomas Dodd, Democrat, Connecticut, "a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, snapped back at Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.'s suggestion to admit Red China to the United Nations." Dodd said: "King is a man of unquestioned competence in the field of civil rights, but he has absolutely no competence to speak about complex matters of foreign policy. And it is nothing short of arrogance when Dr. King takes it upon himself to thus undermine the policies of the President of the United States."

King said he was convinced that the press was also being stacked against him. He said he had already received unkind editorials on what he said; one, King said, went so far as to say that he was "power drunk"; another went on to say that since he received the Nobel Prize, he had "let it go to his head."

According to the source, King was very distraught over the bad publicity and criticism and as a consequence, said he was not strong enough to carry on two struggles at the same time: the civil rights struggle, and the Vietnam peace struggle. He said the fact is that the public is not ready to digest the truth (on Vietnam and China), therefore, "they are going to cut me down." He said in view of this, he wanted their opinions on three things, specifically: on how to get across to the public that he is not alone in his position (on Vietnam and China); on how to deal with the Dodd statement; and his plan to write letters to the heads of States involved in the Vietnam struggle.

Re: Communist Influence in
Racial Matters
Internal Security - C

With reference to the letter writing campaign, King said he had to conceive some graceful means whereby he could withdraw, since he was convinced that his plea for peace would be rebuffed by Ho Chi Minh. He said he must forget the peace issue and get back to work in the civil rights field. He said he had concluded that he "cannot battle these forces who are out to defeat my influence." "They," King said, "will take the Communist China thing and what Dodd said and use it to say I am under the influence of Communists, which may confuse some of our supporters and contributors."

Following King's statement, all expressed their opinions on the course of action to follow. However, it was the opinions of Levison and Wachtel which were favorably received. They said King should answer by stating that "he had spoken his peace and had never purported to lead this struggle and now I'm going back to my regular work."

With reference to the criticism of Senator Dodd, all of King's advisers concurred that he should be answered. It was felt that Dodd should be taken to task by someone from Connecticut, preferably the Dean of the Yale Law School, and others from Yale.

King said the average mind is not sophisticated enough to analyze Dodd's statement and what it means. If they were sophisticated enough, they would know that Dodd is the "strongest supporter of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and its invasion of privacy, and the House Un-American Activities Committee," King remarked.

According to the source, the conference ended with an agreement that a national campaign would be started to enlist the aid of prominent Government, church and civil rights leaders to answer Dodd's criticism of King. Furthermore, it was felt that additional discussion should be had in this matter,

Conference, which SCEF is assisting in Tennessee.

It would seem a possibility for Mr. Braden to consider an engagement the week of Oct. 4-9 and preferably in the latter part of the week.

He would require his transportation from where he will be last speaking, overnight hospitality, and either a contribution towards the work of SCEF in terms of a fee or an opportunity to make an appeal for contributions in support of SCEF.

As you may know, he welcomes--when he comes to a community--opportunity to meet with student, ministerial, labor or community groups, to speak on local radio or TV programs, and the willingness of a group inviting him to make an attempt to utilize his presence to the fullest would have a bearing on his interest in coming.

He is well equipped to speak on all phases of Civil Rights Movement but has a special interest in the combination of Civil Rights and Civil Liberties, and is concerned that the Movement should involve itself incessantly with bread and butter realities and with the issue of peace. His experiences this spring and summer in Appalachia support this orientation.

If you are interested in considering his coming in early October, I hope you will correspond immediately with me, as he has empowered me to finalize this tour. Details can always be worked out more leisurely once the basic schedule has taken shape.

I hope to hear further from you.

Cordially,

Re: Communist Influence in
Racial Matters
Internal Security - C

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, furnished information on September 13, 1965, disclosing that a conference between Martin Luther King (President of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, SCLC) and his advisors, took place on that night. Those in attendance according to the source were: King, Stanley Levison, Harry Wachtel, Clarence Jones, Bayard Rustin, Cleveland Robinson (Secretary-Treasurer of Local 65, Retail, Wholesale and Department Store Workers Union, American Federation of Labor - Congress of Industrial Organizations, AFL-CIO), Andrew Young (Executive Director of the SCLC) and Walter Fauntroy (Washington, D.C., Director of the SCLC). The conference concerned King's position on Vietnam.

The conference opened with an agreement that King would not write letters to the leaders of various world powers.

The letters he had planned to write would have urged negotiations to end the war.

However, the conference in the main, dealt with getting statements from persons of influence backing King's right to speak out as he did and counteracting the criticism he has received.

According to the source, discussion was had on the possibility of getting "The New York Times" to print an editorial supporting King's right to speak out on Vietnam. It was agreed that Harry Wachtel should make every effort to persuade the paper to print the editorial.

Bayard Rustin, the source said, was designated to see Senator Paul Douglas of Illinois in an effort to persuade him to make a statement supporting King's right to speak out on the war in Vietnam. Although it was acknowledged that Douglas has opposed the seating of Red China in the United Nations, it was believed that he would support King since the issue of Vietnam was a moral one.

It was decided that various publications, specifically, "The Nation," the "Saturday Review," and the "Christian Century," would be requested to print articles and editorials supporting King.

King, after listening to the various opinions and decisions of his advisors, said it should be made clear that he was not turning his attention from the civil rights movement. He said, however, he realized that his "star is waning" because of his statements on Vietnam; that he wants to temporarily put the Vietnam issue behind him; that the central issue for him is civil rights, but that he would speak out when he considered it necessary.

The source advised on September 13, 1965, that Harry Wachtel and Bayard Rustin were in contact on that date, concerning King's dilemma over Vietnam. It was agreed that the country needs a voice to speak on the subject but not in the person of King. Wachtel thought King's statements on the subject were wholesome, stimulating and valuable. Rustin concurred, adding, however, that he (King) could not continue to make statements on foreign policy because "they are going to come down on him like a house on fire (his opponents)."

Wachtel said it was imperative that King come out with some dramatic domestic issue in order to off set the bad publicity he has received. He suggested a program be instituted to defeat Governor George Wallace of Alabama in 1966, and a program to enroll more Negroes to vote in the South.

Rustin said in regard to King's remarks on Vietnam and foreign policy that Negroes were saying, "China is not our problem-we have no freedom here. He had better get off the China issue and help us solve our problems." Rustin said he was not concerned about the criticism of King by Roy Wilkins (Secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, NAACP) and James Farmer (Director of the Congress of Racial Equality, CORE), but was very much concerned about what the simple Negroes feel.

Stanley Levison

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, advised in April, 1964, that Stanley Levison was a secret member of the Communist Party, United States of America (CPUSA), in July, 1963. In late 1963, and early 1964, he criticized the Communist Party (CP) for not being sufficiently militant in the civil rights struggle. Levison was described by certain CP leaders as being to the "left" of the CP in his position on civil rights. Levison's differences with the CP, however, are merely tactical and he continues his ideological adherence to Communism.

The following points were on the agenda, [redacted]
[redacted] treasurer, called for dues and fund drive money.
[redacted] chairman, gave a report on the upcoming mayoralty primary election, and stated that an all out drive must be made for the candidacy of WILLIAM F. RYAN. He is the most suitable candidate for Mayor of the City of New York.
[redacted] urged all members of the club, and to involve all persons in the campaign of W.F. RYAN.

Next on the agenda, [redacted] asked each member for their opinion concerning the recent riot in Los Angeles. [redacted] stated that the Negroes plight in Los Angeles, has been deplorable for many year. The Negroes in Los Angeles were caught in a ghetto, that had no roads leading out. This tension, plus the police brutality, plus being jobless, made them a second class citizen, with all its ills and treatments. That the Negroes of Los Angeles took the line of least resistance against the white power structure that kept them contained in this black ghetto, to break out with whatever weapons, and devise at hand to show your resentment. Los Angeles has been seething with resentment due to the 2 Black Muslims that were killed there several years ago, and the same method that destroyed the Harlem Mosque in the early part of this year, was used in Los Angeles. Fire bombs, Molotov cocktails, thus the similarity. Also in Springfield, Mass.

the Black Muslim had trouble a year or two ago, thus the demonstrations there, and thus another similarity.

[ ] stated that the Negroes in Los Angeles over the past years, have been oppressed and frustrated in their attempt to break out of this black ghetto, and very little efforts have been made to improve his personal position.

[ ] stated that it was ironic, that the Negroes in LA did the most damage to himself, his community, for this was not a Civil Right demonstration, a case of tempers being fanned, with violence exploding.

3. [ ] stated that stepped up action must follow, to stop the war in Viet Nam, and bring the troops home, and stand guard in Mississippi, Alabama, and Louisiana, where they are needed to protect the rights of the Negroes.

The time being 11:05 PM, the meeting was adjourned.

During late July, 1965, JAMES JACKSON, editor of "The Worker" remarked that Mezhdunarodnaja Kniga (MK), official Soviet publishing organ in Moscow, should be asked if they would be willing to negotiate with Freedomways Associates, Inc., New York City, regarding the publication in Russian in book form of three issues of "Freedomways" which would constitute a good book and study in depth of the Negro problem in the U.S. The three issues of "Freedomways", which JACKSON referred to, which he desired translated and published in book form, were the DuBois Memorial issue, the Mississippi special issue, and the Harlem special issue. JACKSON also noted that he, himself, would be willing to prepare an up-to-date introduction for this book if MK agreed to translate and publish it. He suggested that any negotiation in this matter should be carried on directly with ESTHER JACKSON, his wife, who is managing editor, Freedomways Associates, Inc., 709 Broadway, New York, New York 10003.
